Christmas Tree, a Common Symbol of Holidays, Still Holds Danger

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D. County Health Officer

As long as Christmas trees remain a common symbol of the holiday season, some danger of fire will no doubt remain. Years ago, lighted candles on the tree were an ever-present fire hazard, and many homes have been destroyed and individuals fatally burned or badly scarred as a result of fires which were started by a Christmas tree flare-up.

It seems very difficult to eliminate all the hazards from the Christmas tree and its decorations, and so make this century-old custom a safe one. Even the recent use of metal trees is not without some danger for the unwary, for, under certain adverse circumstances, a string of electric bulbs used on a metal tree could present a hazard that might result in a person being electrocuted. Most manufacturers of aluminum or other metal trees recommended off-the-tree flood-lighting to provide safe illumination.

EVERY Christmas season, the County Forester and Fire Warden issues a mimeographed guide to the safe use of Christmas trees which will prove especially valuable to those persons responsible for the safe use of the trees, whether they are installed in churches, stores, other places of public assembly, or at home.

A copy of the guide will be mailed to anyone who sends a card of request to the Division of Public Health Education, Los Angeles County Health Department, 241 North Figueroa St., Los Angeles 12, Or, since time is short, contact your local Fire Department.

Witnesses Open 3-Day Meet Friday

Members of the Jehovah's Witnesses are making final preparations to attend the semi-annual Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium tomorrow through Sunday, it was announced by Leonard Olliff, presiding minister of the Torrance congregation.

"As a stimulation to the preaching methods of the Witnesses, the Long Beach program carries the theme, 'Be Taught by Jehovah.' The program is really an extension of and a refresher for the regular training program conducted in all the congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses," Olliff explained.

BUBBLING, candle-shaped lights, for instance, are especially exciting to younger children. In trying to remove one of these "pretty candles" a child may be severely cut or even electrocuted. In some cases, children have inhaled or swallowed the liquid content which is mildly toxic.

Salvation Army Workers Planning 50,000 Bedside Visits This Week

More than 50,000 hospital and rest home bedside visits will be made this week by Salvation Army League of Mercy workers in connection with this phase of the Army's Christmas gift distribution which is expected to reach upwards of 150,000 needy individuals in southern California, the majority of them in family groups.

In most cities, the Salvation Army will issue budget subsidy checks to needy mothers, commensurate with the family's need, with which purchases can be made to provide for the family Christmas dinner and gifts for the children. The traditional "Christmas basket" containing foodstuffs and gifts is still practiced in some cities, among them Long Beach and Redondo Beach.

Homeless men will be dinner guests of The Salvation Army at a score of Salvation Army skidrow hospitality centers throughout southern California. Principal Christmas dinner for unattached men will be held Sunday starting at 11:30 a.m., at the Salvation Army Men's Social Service center, 801 E. Seventh St., in Los Angeles.

Chance to See New Holiday Film Offered by Food Giant Markets

Food Giant Markets are giving away free holiday entertainment this week end! The grocery chain will give away 1500 free tickets to the year's number one holiday movie, "The 3 Worlds of Gulliver," in Superdynamation and Eastman Color, on Christmas Eve.

The Columbia picture has just opened at theatres and drive-ins throughout Los Angeles, and will run through Jan. 3, 1961.

Starring Kerwin Mathews as the seaman Lemuel Gulliver, whose travels lead him to Lilliput, where he is a giant to the six-inch tall Lilliputians, and on to still stranger countries, the movie fantasy is an adaptation of the classic "Gulliver's Travels" by Jonathan Swift.

No purchase is necessary for a chance at winning a pair of free tickets to this exciting movie. Names and addresses may be left at any Food Giant Market. Drawings will be held on Saturday evening, Dec. 24, and names of winners will be posted on the market doors. Winners need not be present at the time of the drawing.
